Executive Summary

This short report summarises the results of a weekly omnibus conducted by Essential Research with data provided by Your Source. The omnibus was conducted online from the 9th to the 15th of February and attracted 1195 responses.

Aside from the standard question we ask each week on Federal voting preference, this week we asked respondents a series of questions related to the global financial crisis. We ask respondents specifically their concerns around the financial crisis in terms of job security and whether they think Australia can withstand the crisis. We ask the Australian public to rate the performance of the Government and the Opposition in terms of their response to the global financial crisis. This week we attempt to determine which party the Australian public trusts most to manage the economy during the global financial crisis. This week we seek to gauge public opinion regarding the economic stimulus package and public support for specific components of the package. This week we also ask the Australian public a question related to the Liberal party leadership and who people think would make a better leader out of Turnbull or Costello.

The methodology used to carry out this research is available in appendix one (page 11).

Please note not all tables total 100% due to rounding.

Federal politics – voting intention

Q. If there was a Federal election held today, to which party would you probably give your first preference?

Q. If you 'don't know' on the above question, which party are you currently leaning to?

* 2096 sample size

2 week average	%	2PP	2PP shift from last week
Liberal	32%
National	2%
Total Lib/Nat	34%	39%	-
Labor	51%	61%	-
Greens	8%
Family First	2%
Other/Independent	4%

NB. The data in the above table is derived from our weekly first preference voting question. Respondents who select 'don't know' as their first preference are not included in the results.

* Sample is the culmination of two week's data.

Concern over job security

Q. How concerned are you that you or some member of your immediate family will lose their job in the next year or so: very concerned, somewhat concerned, or not at all concerned?

	%
Total concerned	62%
Total not concerned	33%
Very concerned	22%
Somewhat concerned	40%
Not at all concerned	29%
Don't know	4%
No employees in immediate family	5%

62% of Australians surveyed are very concerned/somewhat concerned that some member of their immediate family will lose their job in the next year or so. The level of concern was high amongst all demographic groups.

Australian economy and the global financial crisis

Q. How confident are you that the Australian economy can withstand the current global financial crisis?

	13 Oct 08	20 Oct 08	12 Jan 09	16 Feb 09
Very confident	7%	10%	6%	8%
Quite confident	45%	53%	55%	52%
Not very confident	33%	25%	29%	30%
Not confident at all	9%	6%	5%	5%
No opinion	7%	6%	5%	5%

Confidence that the Australian economy can withstand the current global financial crisis was at its highest 20 October (63% total confident) – this week it has dropped back slightly to 60% total confident.

74% of Labor voters are very confident/quite confident that the Australian economy can withstand the current global financial crisis, compared with 48% of Coalition voters that are very confident/quite confident.

Government and Opposition performance in regards to the global financial crisis

Q. Do you strongly approve, approve, disapprove or strongly disapprove of the Government's performance in regard to the global financial crisis?

Q. Do you strongly approve, approve, disapprove or strongly disapprove of the Opposition's performance in regard to the global financial crisis?

	Government		Opposition
	3 Nov 08	16 Feb 09	3 Nov 08	16 Feb 09

Appendix One – Methodology

The data gathered for this report is gathered from a weekly online omnibus conducted by Your Source. Your Source is an Australian social and market research company specializing in recruitment, field research, data gathering and data analysis. Your Source holds Interviewer Quality Control Australia (IQCA) accreditation, Association Market and Social Research Organisations (AMSRO) membership and World Association of Opinion and Marketing Research Professionals (ESOMAR) membership. Senior Your Source staff hold Australian Market and Social Research Society (AMSRS) membership and are bound by professional codes of behavior.

Essential Research has been utilizing the Your Source online panel to conduct research on a week by week basis since the 19th of November 2007. Each Monday, the team at Essential Media Communications discusses issues that are topical. From there a series of questions are devised to put to the Australian public. Some questions are repeated each week (such as political preference and social perspective), while others are unique to each week and reflect prominent media and social issues that are present at the time.

Your Source has a self managed consumer online panel of 109 500. The majority of panel members have been recruited using off line methodologies, effectively ruling out concerns associated with online self selection. Your Source has validation methods in place that prevent panelist over use and ensure member authenticity. Your Source randomly selects 18+ males and females (with the aim of targeting 50/50 males/females) from its Australia wide panel. An invitation is sent out to approximately 7000 – 8000 of their panel members. The response rate varies each week, but usually delivers 1000 + responses. The Your Source online omnibus is live from the Wednesday of each week and closed on the following Tuesday. Incentives are offered to participants in the form of points (referred to as 'Zoints').

EMC uses the Statistical Package for the Social Sciences (SPSS) software to analyse the data. The data is weighted against Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) data.
